April 2001

A schoolteacher injured his back and had to wear a plaster cast around the upper part of his body. It fit under his shirt and was not noticeable at all. On the first day of the term, still with the cast under his shirt, he found himself assigned to the toughest students in school. Walking confidently into the rowdy classroom, he opened the window as wide as possible and busied himself with deskwork. When a strong breeze made his tie flap, he took the desk stapler and stapled the tie to his chest. Not surprisingly, he had no trouble with discipline that term.

An English professor wrote the words, "Woman without her man is nothing," on the blackboard and directed the students to punctuate it correctly.

The men wrote: "Woman, without her man, is nothing."

The woman wrote: "Woman! Without her, man is nothing."

A guy took his girlfriend to her first football game. Afterward he asked her how she liked the game. "I liked it, but I couldn't understand why they were killing each other for 25 cents," she said.

"What do you mean? He asked.

"Well, everyone kept yelling, 'Get the quarter back!'"

You've lived in small town
Saskatchewan too long when...

-Driving in the winter is better because the potholes are filled with snow.

-Your idea of a traffic jam is ten cars waiting to pass a tractor and combine crew on the highway.

-You have never owned a vehicle that did not have cracks in the windshield.

-You think everyone from a bigger city is stuck-up.

-You've attempted to set new land speed records on Saskatchewan's highways

-You've ridden a school bus 1hr each way.

-You've been to a tractor rally.

A man in Nipawin, in his 80's, calls his son in Florida one April morning. The father says to the son, "I hate to tell you, but we've got some troubles here in the house. Your mother and I can't stand each other anymore, and we're getting a divorce. I've had it! I want to live out the rest of my years in peace. I'm telling you now, so you and your sister shouldn't go into shock later when I move out." He hangs up, and the son immediately calls his sister in Tampa and tells her the news. The sister says, "I'll handle this!" She calls Nipawin and says to her father, "Don't do ANYTHING till we get there! We'll be there Friday night." The father agrees, "All right." The old man hangs up the phone and hollers to his wife, "Okay, they're coming for Easter. Now, what are we going to tell them for Thanksgiving?"

When I was a maintenance worker at senior citizens' residence, I spent much of my day responding to service calls. I remember the time I was called to fix a door that wasn't unlocking properly. Arriving at the apartment, I knocked, and getting no answer, kneeled to examine the lock. At that moment, the door opened to reveal a woman in her eighties obviously startled by my kneeling posture. Then it was my turn to be surprised. She threw up her hands and laughingly exclaimed, "I accept!"

Two people were discussing their marriages. One person turned to the other and said, "I had a three-ring ceremony."

"What do you mean?"
"First came the engagement ring, next came the wedding ring, and now the suffering."

Q: What did Baby Corn say to Mother Corn?

A: Where is Pop Corn?

Jim: Why was the baby inkblot upset?

Tim: Why?

Jim: His father got put in the pen, and they didn't know how long the sentence would be.

Q: What can't you hold for ten minutes although it's light as a feather

A: Breath.

A pastor was having trouble seeing his sermon notes at the pulpit, so he talked to the chairman of the church board and suggested buying a chandelier for the front of the church--thinking that it would be decorative as well as useful. The chairman said he would discuss it with the board. Months passed, and the pastor noticed nothing had been done about his suggestion. Finally, he asked the chairman why the chandelier had not yet been bought.

"I can give you three reason's," replied the chairman. "Number 1--We don't know how to spell it so we can order it. Number 2—There is no one in the church that can play the thing.

Number 3—We need a light in front of the church more than we need a chandelier."

Over dinner, my wife said to me, "I met this horrible and rude man downtown this morning, and right away I knew he was a troublemaker. He started to insult me, he used really bad language, he even threatened me!"

"How did you meet this fellow?" I asked, very concerned.

She said, "Well, we met by accident, I hit him with the car."

Over heard at a computer store: "I want a game capable of holding the interest of my six-year-old, but it's got to be simple enough for his father to play too."

A little boy went to the store with his grandmother, and on the way home, he was looking at the things, she had purchased. He found a package of panty hose and began to sound out the words "Queen Size". He then turned to his grandmother and exclaimed, "Look Grandma, you wear the same size as our bed!"

The honeymoon is over when he no longer smiles gently as he scrapes the burnt toast.

Three mice are sitting at a bar in a pretty rough neighborhood late at night trying to impress each other about how tough they are.

The first mouse pounds a shot of scotch, slams the glass onto the bar, turns to the second mouse and says, "When I see a mousetrap, I lie on my back and set it off with my foot.

When the bar comes down, I catch it in my teeth, bench press it twenty times to work up an appetite, and then make off with the cheese."

The second mouse orders up two shots of sour mash, pounds them both, slams each glass onto the bar, turns to the first mouse, and replies, "Yeah, well when I see rat poison, I collect as much as I can, take it home, grind it up to a powder, and add it to my coffee each morning so I can get a good buzz going for the rest of the day."

The first mouse and the second mouse then turn to the third mouse.

The third mouse lets out a long sigh and says to the first two, "I don't have time for this. I've got a date with the cat."

My three-year-old nephew and I were looking at a children's book about families. He said, "I have two grandmas", and I replied, "Yes, you do". He then said, "I have two grandpa's too." Again I replied "yes", and added, "And you have two aunts." With a puzzled look on his face he said, "No, grandpa said those were lady bugs."
